

KILLINGS LAD TO UNION WAR

PARLIAMENT ALL 'NET UP' ON U.S. NAVAL PARITY

Chamberlain Put on Hecklers' Grill.

BY JOHN STEELE.
(Chicago Tribune Staff Writer.)

LONDON, Feb. 20.—Anglo-American relations, the freedom of the seas, and naval disarmament occupied most of the time of the house of commons yesterday afternoon. Sir Austen Chamberlain, secretary for foreign affairs, was severely heckled on the subject of the statement of Sir Emma Howard, British ambassador to the United States.

The Laborites and the Liberals tried to draw from the foreign secretary a clear statement of the present position of the government. Sir Austen took refuge in the statement that it was too soon to let the public know what was going on.

The discussion was opened by Lieut. Commander J. M. Kenworthy, Laborite, who asked whether the British government intended to call a new conference on naval disarmament, and whether the invitation would include any suggestions for an international conference on maritime law.

Will Consult with Dominions.

"His majesty's government has no intention of issuing an invitation for a conference on this subject," Sir Austen replied, "and all questions concerning our relations with the United States and the naval condition of the countries are under consideration of his majesty's government."

An unable to make any statement until this inquiry is concluded, the minister of foreign affairs, Sir Austen, said that the statement made by the British ambassador at Washington, regarding the question of further restrictions on naval armaments was not made on instructions of the British government. Mr. Thurstle countered by saying Sir Austen if he was not aware that the statement by the ambassador and his subsequent contradiction had caused misunderstandings to arise in America, and would the foreign office in future instruct the ambassador as to the policy the government intended to pursue.

Sir Austen replied that if Mr. Thurstle looked carefully at Sir Emma's statement and that of the foreign office he would see that there was no contradiction between them. The statement by the foreign office was a correction of the mistaken impression drawn from the ambassador's statement.

Takes Up Neutral Rights.

The battle was then taken up by Mr. J. C. Wedgwood, Laborite, who wanted to know about the delay in renewing the Root-Bryce treaty. Sir Austen said that he had already told the house of commons all about the negotiations and that the consultation of the dominions was not yet concluded.

Mr. Wedgwood asked if, as one source of trouble between Great Britain and America, which might involve the use of arbitration, was the rights of neutrals at sea, he would not see that this was included in the treaty.

Sir Austen replied that he could not say what would be the result of the negotiations as they were not yet concluded. He said rather sharply that the house ought to be satisfied that the government was examining all these questions.

Only Opinion of Ambassador.

Mr. Wedgwood pressed his point, however, insisting the house was entitled to some explanation of the circumstances which led to the recent statement by the British ambassador at Washington. Sir Austen replied that the ambassador was approached by the press for his views on the possibility of a renewal of the discussion on naval armaments and litigation and he had issued a statement representing his own personal opinion as to the possible course of events. In no part of his statement did he indicate that immediate developments were likely, although erroneous deductions in this sense were drawn from his remarks by certain sections of the press.

Mr. Wedgwood asked on this point and wanted to know if the ambassador had been kept informed as to what the foreign office was doing, particularly with reference to Sir Austen's statement in the house of commons on Feb. 1. Sir Austen replied that he was undoubtedly communicated to.

Four Children Die in Blazing Home

SIMON LEGREE AND HIS PACK

Salts Again Fugitive; Ale in His Garage

Joe Salts, supposedly on his way to Florida after his release from the Bridgeview on Tuesday, got into trouble again yesterday when prohibition agents found eighteen cases of Canadian ale and 135 slot machines in the garage at the rear of 5654 South Albany avenue, his home. Jake Shay, Salts' chauffeur, was taken into custody when he furnished the key to the liquor cache at the order of his boss.

Two agents, informed that the Salts garage might be filled with something besides linoleum, tried to force their way through the locked doors of the place yesterday afternoon. While they were fiddling with the lock, Salts himself appeared on the rear porch of his home with a revolver in one hand.

Agents Demand Entrance.

"What's goin' on out there?" the beer king prohibition agents, he was told, "we want to take a look into the garage."

"O. J. just a minute, boys," Salts said. "I'll get the key for you as soon as I get dressed." He was not wearing a shirt.

He disappeared into the house, and presently returned, dressed, and accompanied by Shay. "We'll be back with the key in a minute," he called to the agents, entering his automobile, which was parked beside the house. The two drove away.

Key Arrives; Not Salts.

A short wait and Shay returned with the car and the key, but without Salts. The garage door was opened and the ale and slot machines were revealed. The agents took Shay into custody, looked for Salts unavailingly, and returned to prohibition headquarters.

It became apparent soon after the arrest that Salts had anticipated his chauffeur would be held. The beer chief's attorney telephoned Deputy Administrator F. D. Sullivan, and asked if Shay had arrived at the prohibition office.

"We want to make arrangements to get him out on bond tonight," the lawyer explained.

Freedom Warrant for Joe.

"We'll have a warrant for Joe himself in the morning," Sullivan said. Later Shay was taken to the home of United States Commissioner Edwin C. Walker, who set his bond at $1,000 pending a hearing this morning. The chauffeur produced the amount in Liberty bonds.

Student Flyer Takes Diploma Out in Trade

Darius Green and his flying machine have nothing on Joseph Lorenz. For more than four hours yesterday he kept a police squad and attendants of the Municipal airport in a state of near panic as he swept wildly back and forth across the field, putting his Swallow training plane through all the aerial capers in the stunt book.

Lorenz, who is 18 years old and a student in the Aviation Service and Transport training school, took off at 9:30 for what was supposed to be a ten minute solo flight. Once in the air, he opened his bag of tricks. He looped, he spun, he stalled. He sent the ship into a dizzy tailspin 500 feet from the field. He swept perilously close to chimneys and roof tops. Pilots who watched him in amazement said he looped the loop 22 times.

Try to Chase Him Down.

Michael Rubner, operations manager of the school, went aloft in another plane to shoot him down, but, after a wild and unavailing chase, returned. Walter Lupinski, airplane traffic controller, said Lorenz was flying in a circle, and that he was signaling him to land. Lorenz ran from his hangars and gazed skyward.

After an hour of vain attempts to bring the runaway to the ground, officials of the airport called for police and an ambulance to be in readiness for a crash.

Lorenz Wheel, Crashes a Wing.

At 1:35 Lorenz descended, out of gas and out of breath. With a still more he glided onto the field, ripping a wheel from the plane and cracking a wing. His student's license was taken from him and he was banned from using the field hereafter. Today he will leave for his home in Reading, Pa.

This was my last day in Chicago and my last chance to fly a training ship," Lorenz said last night. "I had more solo flying coming to me than the school gave me, and they kept stalling me along, so I decided to take it out in trade. I think I earned my diploma."

Berwyn Mother and Baby Killed by Gas in Home.

Mrs. Anna Wild, 35 years old, and her three months old son, Milton, were found asphyxiated in the kitchen of their home at 1844 South Lombard avenue, Berwyn, early last evening by Aldrich, her 11 year old son. The jets in a gas stove were open.

COOK COUNTY IS GAS TAX GOAT, ANALYSIS SHOWS

Would Pay 50%; Get 4% of Roads.

Both Houses Act

Committees of both houses at Springfield yesterday reported out the Emerson gas tax bill without change. Public hearings by both chambers were provided for.

BY PUTNEY HAIGHT.

For the last ten years records show that Cook county motorists have been paying all the way from 35 per cent to 40 per cent of the state vehicle license fees with which to build hard roads. In that time the laws designating road construction have allotted to Cook county just slightly more than 3.7 per cent of the state highway system.

The proposed gasoline tax of the present administration, it is found upon analysis, will not offer Cook county any increase in the ratio of its highway benefits for the money it pays.

City Cars Use More Gas.

It is further ascertained that the 40 per cent proportion of all state vehicle license fees now paid by Cook county will not apply to the payments for the gasoline tax. Reports from oil supply companies, based on the experience of the gasoline tax collection for the six months last year preceding the Supreme court's decision invalidating the law, tend to show that the gasoline consumption in cities is considerably more per car than in the rural districts.

A fair estimate for Cook county's gasoline tax under the proposed law would be something more than 30 per cent of the entire state tax proceeds. In 1925 the sum of $6,107,975 was paid in motor vehicle fees by Cook county and the rest of the state paid $9,613,354.

Stripped of all alibi and explanation, the proposed gas tax of three cents means a two cent tax for state highway purposes, and, quite apart, a one cent tax added to it, which is a one cent tax to the county from which it came, based on license fee apportionment.

Proportion Is Unfavorable.

In view of the fact that city cars burn considerably more gasoline in ordinary use than rural owned cars, the proportion for refunds on the basis of license fee payments is clearly unfavorable to the urban districts. A further consideration lies in the fact that a high percentage of operation of city cars—such claims as high as 80 per cent—go over city streets, and does not receive any benefit whatever from country road construction.

In what is deemed a fair analysis of the effects of the proposed administration gas tax bill the third cent of the tax is not to be considered, as it is merely an outside factor in the discussion. The cent is collected from the county by the state and returned to the county by a transaction from the state's two cent tax operation. However, in the case of the one cent factor, such counties as Cook, St. Clair, Peoria, Rock Island, and perhaps Alexander, will lose some right portion because the redistribution is based on license fee proportions.

So far as the terms of the proposed bill now provide, the use of the revenue of the two cent gasoline tax will proceed upon precisely the same ratio of benefits for Cook county as has existed through the period of the laws—viz., 3.7 per cent. The percentage of payment by Cook county, in comparison with all the rest of the state, will remain at least as high as 40 per cent and probably will total over 50 per cent.

No Relief for Cook County.

That Cook county cannot hope for relief in the items of $7,500,000 for widening and reconstructing "major arteries of population," and $2,000,000 for grade separations, seems apparent. These items, it is true, are included in the proceeds of the state's two cent a gallon and it designated for application to highways, forming Chicago's radial arteries, would tend to increase Chicago's ratio of benefits.

The measure, as it stands, however, does not designate application of funds to particular highways. It is left to the widening, improving, and reconstruction shall be done "near the city of Chicago."

Fifth Is Dying; Parents, Two Others Burned

Four children perished last night in a fire in their cottage home in Lansing, a village in the southeastern corner of Cook county.

Neighbors rescued the mother and two other children, one of whom is expected to die. The father, John Ooms, who escaped with his clothing ablaze, was forcibly restrained from rushing back into the flames to save the four who were lost. The dead victims were Herbert, 14; Gerben, 5; Edward, 6, and Anna, 4.

When the flames burst the father, a 35 year old mechanic, and his wife, Katherine, 29 years old, were in the kitchen. Their six children were asleep in the living room.

It was 10 o'clock and the mother had prepared them for bed an hour before, but the smaller children were afraid of the darkness upstairs, so she had permitted all six to go to sleep on cots and a sofa in the security of the parents' company downstairs.

Burning Grease Starts Fire.

Mrs. Ooms had been rendering a kettle of lard on a kerosene stove. The kettle was heavy, so the husband got up from his rocking chair to lift it off the stove.

Some of the boiling grease spilled over, Ooms dropped the kettle, and a geyser of flame spouted from the stove. Instantly the whole kettle was ablaze and flames were shooting up the window curtains while the room filled with choking, blinding smoke.

Ooms, whose clothing was ablaze, groped to find the door. His wife screamed, awakening the children, and then fainted. George and Will Ooms saw the blazing windows from their home next door and ran to the rescue. Will Ooms plunged into the blaze and picked up Mrs. Ooms. The husband, dazed by the catastrophe, followed the rescuer out the door.

The flames swept to the living room, where the children were shrieking. The neighbors rushed in and carried out Sarah, 13 years old, and Sadie, 10 years old. By this time the house was a mass of fire and they dared not enter, but the father made a leap for the door. He fought as his neighbors held him back from the four children dying in the flames.

Firemen Unable to Help.

The flames broke the circuit on the party telephone line and a neighbor ran three blocks before reaching a telephone to sound the alarm. When the volunteer firemen arrived it was too late for them to be of service.

County highway police directed the removal of the parents and surviving children to St. Margaret's hospital in Hammond, Ind. Physicians there said the younger child, Sadie, would probably die and that the condition of the mother and older child was critical. When she was being saved from the house Sadie had said to her rescuer: "Thank you, mister."

Highway policemen, searching the ruins, found the bodies of the three boys where the kitchen had been. They had been burned to death, evidently trying to flee through the most intense point of the fire. Anna, a toddler too small to follow her brothers, died in the living room.

U. S. CRUISER OFF FOR SCENE OF CHEFOO REVOLT

MANILA, Feb. 21.—(AP)—The light cruiser Trenton left Manila today under orders to proceed to Chefoo, as the result of a reported uprising in Shantung. The Trenton proceeding under ordinary speed is due at Chefoo Monday morning.

Reports from Chefoo ten days ago said that 2,000 former Peking soldiers who had been mustered into the Nationalist army had revolted at Lunghow, Shantung. There was fear then that the mutiny would spread to other towns and garrisons.

Later reports indicated that this may have happened and said that a battle was imminent west of Chefoo between loyal Nationalists and rebels. Missionary women were evacuated from several towns in the affected area, although men remained at their posts.

CHILE AND PERU SETTLE DISPUTE ON TACNA-ARICA

SANTIAGO, Chile, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Official announcement was made here tonight of an agreement between the governments of Peru and Chile settling the long standing Tacna-Arica controversy. By the terms of the agreement the city of Tacna goes to Peru and Arica to Chile.

At the time of the killing of Clay, Nov. 18, 1925, unionists told of the efforts of the Moran gang to intimidate Clay. The organization they then controlled, the Central company, was an outlaw concern in the sense of its relation to the Master Cleaners and Dyer's association, the real cleaning and dyeing trust of Chicago. It was made possible through the control exercised over Clay's drivers, who picked up clothing to be cleaned and repaired, and of the inside workers who belonged to the Cleaners, Dyer's and Pressers' union.

Capone and Gang Back Behind.

The Becker system of south side tailor shops had been the first to revolt against the master association, and its troubles were averted only when it hired Al Capone and his Cleary gang as protectors, giving them an interest in the business.

At the time of Clay's death the whole scheme of the Moran gang was laid bare, but no arrests were ever made. The proof to convict wasn't available. But union men knew and they told, and they exposed the plan, which was given as follows:

"The Central company was a cooperative concern, about 100 north and northwest side tailoring establishments having an interest in it, and it employed numerous help. Ben Kornick was its president, and because his plants were bombed, his trucks burned, and clothing destroyed through explosive hidden in goods sent to member shops he paid Moran, Greenberg, and Maritz $1,500 to $2,000 a week to fend off the vandals, who were supposed to have union affiliations as well as being agents of the Master's association."

Backs Aid of Clay.

Kornick finally came to the conclusion Moran was trying to force him out of his own organization, but he was helpless to prevent it unless he could affiliate with the Master, and as he would have to undermine his help. He went to Clay, who had a reputation for honesty and for having the interest of his union at heart.

The Moran gang learned that Kornick was trying to dislodge them. It

LINK MASSACRE OF 7 GANGSTERS TO CLAY SLAYING

Seize Detroit Man as Suspect.

Control of a labor union and its treasury fund of $200,000 was endangered by the ambitions of the Moran gang and it was necessary to kill them to prevent the union going under gang domination. It was stated last night in the state's attorney's office as a positive solution of the massacre of the seven Moran gangsters.

It is charged that members of the Moran gang killed John G. Clay, secretary-treasurer of the Laundry and Dyehouse Chauffeurs' union, on Nov. 16, 1928, and then moved to take possession of the union.

Willie Marks and James Clark, said to be a brother-in-law of George (Bugs) Moran, were elected vice presidents of the union. When Ald. Oscar F. Nelson (44th ward), who is also vice president of the Chicago Federation of Labor, was selected to be executive secretary of the union they are said to have threatened him.

Gummen Seek to "Muscle In"

The Moran gunmen had decided to enter the field of legitimate business through illegitimate means, mainly by these methods described as "muscling in." They obtained a start when they were hired to protect the Central Cleaning company, 3706 Fullerton avenue, which was having labor troubles and a war with rival concerns. This gave them the idea of taking over the entire industry as had been done in other cities. The Purple gang of Detroit having had some success in that line.

But, according to announcement last night they overstepped their bounds when they declared war on organized labor with its national and international affiliations. Such a declaration over a powerful union would never be countenanced by the men who direct the destinies of the laboring men's organizations, the prosecutors said.

Plan to Question Nelson.

"There is no question but that the cleaning and dyeing war is at the back of this killing of seven of the Moran gang," the positive statement was made. "We are going to call on Ald. Nelson for questioning tomorrow and we are sure to get to the bottom of the whole deal."

"He'll have to admit that when he accepted the offer to take Clay's place as boss of the union Moran called him on the telephone and told him it would mean trouble unless he refused the offer."

At the time of the killing of Clay, Nov. 18, 1925, unionists told of the efforts of the Moran gang to intimidate Clay. The organization they then controlled, the Central company, was an outlaw concern in the sense of its relation to the Master Cleaners and Dyer's association, the real cleaning and dyeing trust of Chicago. It was made possible through the control exercised over Clay's drivers, who picked up clothing to be cleaned and repaired, and of the inside workers who belonged to the Cleaners, Dyer's and Pressers' union.

Willie Marks went to see Clay himself and said he could bring about the undoing of the Central, by the way, Clay asked him to show authority to sign an agreement, and having none, Marks temporized.

"They tried to bulldoze Mike Galvin, head of the teamsters' council, into helping them get Clay in line. Galvin refused. They couldn't handle Clay, so they killed him. If Clay had been crooked enough to accept their proposal they would eventually have gained control of the teamsters' association, which is city-wide and, in collusion with union officials, they would have a monopoly on the industry in Chicago."

Wetshank Made Manager.

What happened after the Clay shooting, as was disclosed last night, was that Kornick was shelved and Albert H. Wetshank, one of the Moran bootleg and bludge gang, became manager of the Central company. With Marks and Clark in power as vice presidents of the drivers' union and Wetshank having at least a wedge into the employers' association, the gang could see a fat harvest, the prosecutors pointed out.

"But they reckoned without the power and the vengeance of aroused union labor officials," the significant statement was made. "If one union could be taken over by gun and muscle it could another."

"And what could be easier than getting a couple of police uniforms sent to be cleaned and pressed and dressing up the murderers in them?"

Joseph Twanice was president of the union at the time of Clay's death. Clay had organized it seventeen years before and watched it grow from a handful of men into an organization that became the envy of Tim Murphy, Frenchy Mader, and others who made previous attempts to supersede Clay. The treasury fund was the cause of the constant menace of Clay's continuation, but he had the loyalty of the men and the respect and aid of other union officials and the Murphy and Mader attempts were balked.

Disclosures Show Motive.

While the disclosures of last night contain the names of no suspects, it was pointed out, they exhibit a motive for the killing, along with the other theories of Detroit run runners, of the seven deaths being the cause of the murder of Tony Lombardo and Pasquale Lofredo, or of territorial disputes with the Capone gang.

But a suspect was arrested last night in Detroit, Mich., who gave the name of George A. Lewis. He was said to be known here as "Nosey Lewis," a North Clark street police character. He had been heard to mention that he had come from Chicago and that he "had bumped off a party."

He had a map of the locality of the garage where the Moran gang, known sent to Chicago and women who rented rooms to spies who watched from across the street to see who went in and out of the Moran rendezvous said Keywell's picture looked like one of their lodgers but they did not think he was.

Assistant State's Attorney David Stansbury, who was on duty all evening at the detective bureau questioning policemen and sifting information about the cleaning and drying work and its union ramifications, said men would be sent to Detroit at once to question Lewis.

State Takes Up Inquiry.

Deputy Police Commissioner John P. Berg returned from Chicago yesterday from Miami, Fla., he said he had not talked with Al Capone while he was there. Capone leveled at the police by business men and civic leaders who met at a luncheon brought a reply from the deputy commissioner.

"I think it is unfair to condemn the whole police department and jump at hasty conclusions that our men were involved in that massacre," he said. "If two of the slayers were police uniforms, as has been said, that is no proof. They might have been police of other jurisdictions or they may have used the uniforms both as camouflage and as protection in their escape."

"The police department is the only barrier between the decent people and the outlaws and as a whole they are the bravest and finest kind of men. I have the welfare of the lowliest patrolman as much at heart as the highest and I think this unjust suspicion is harmful to the morale of the department, because being a policeman in itself is a hardship."

"There may be a few wrong policemen but the rest of them are deserving of confidence and the sooner we prove to the satisfaction of all that our men were not involved the better it will be for the city."

Citizens Groups Take Action.

The luncheon at which the police were criticized was held at the Union League club. The Illinois Manufacturers' association sent invitations to representatives of the Association of Commerce, the crime commission, the Illinois Vigilance association, the Hamilton club, and other organizations to discuss what action might be taken in the interest of the good name of Chicago. Press representatives were barred.

State's Attorney John A. Swanson was asked to be present, and he attended after having spent the night in a hospital being treated for a minor ailment. About forty-five other men were at the meeting.

After the meeting it was announced that the organizations represented had decided to organize a committee of five to work with the prosecutor's office in an effort to solve the gang

Police Radio Outfit Urged to Help Capture Criminals

Chicago police are trying to catch modern criminals with ex-craft methods. It was declared yesterday by Frank F. Fisher upon his return from a study of the use of radio by the police department of Detroit. Mr. Fisher made the trip for the Chicago crime commission, of which he is a director.

"It will be only a brief time before the police force of every city of consequence in America will employ the radio as one of its best aids in catching thieves and murderers," said Mr. Fisher. Next Thursday he will formally report his findings at a luncheon of the executive committee of the crime commission at the Midway club.

Wins Leases Support.

Already, Mr. Fisher said, he has won the support of Frank J. Loesch, president of the commission. In a plan to establish radio service in connection with the Chicago police department. Definite steps will be made in the early future, he said, to present this plan before the police committee of the city council.

The radio equipment of the Detroit police, installed here in 1927, consists, Mr. Fisher explained, of a broadcast station and receiving sets installed in each detective squad car. Messages are flashed from headquarters to the broadcasting station by telephone and relayed immediately by radio to the detective cars on the streets.

As a result of the use of the radio, Mr. Fisher was informed, by Police Commissioner William F. Rutledge, 151 arrests have been made, $42,000 in stolen property recovered, and 19 stolen automobiles returned to their owners. Thirty thousand messages have been dispatched to squad cars since installation of the system.

Speeches Barter Catching.

Instances are on record, Mr. Fisher said he was told, in which burglars have been caught in the act of house-breaking within 70 seconds after a detective squad had received a flash from the radio headquarters. Installation of the system cost Detroit taxpayers $15,000, and maintenance of the system was declared by Commissioner Rutledge to be one-half what it costs to run the police telegraph system. A A. A. system for Chicago could be installed for as low as $10,000, Mr. Fisher believes.

Sgt. Kenneth R. Cox of the Detroit department, is given credit for working out the plan, whereby radio is used in theft and murderer catching. Cleveland and other cities are considering installing similar systems, Mr. Fisher learned.

Massacre and prevent further killings.

State's Attorney Swanson, as spokesman for the gathering, said this committee will represent the civic organizations in all dealings with his office. It was admitted that the police department had been severely criticized at the meeting, but Prosecutor Swanson would not give his opinion on whether the censure was deserved or not. Asked whether those present had any criticism of his "close the shop" order, Mr. Swanson said they had not.

Asked what help they could give him or what help he needed, he said that was a matter for the committee of five to decide. The prosecutor declared he had been given no instructions or advice.

Report Police Assailed.

From other sources it was learned that one speaker had said:

"God forbid that 1,000 men be added to the police force to be contaminated by the present membership."

Another speaker was quoted as saying said to Mr. Swanson:

"You are going to stand or fall on what you do with the police force of this city. The policeman on the beat who winks at a law violation is guilty of malfeasance. The only way to overcome crime in Chicago is through a militant prosecutor."

One of the business men, it was said, told of going to a police captain and asking him to close a moonshine joint. "I can't do anything," the captain replied, "commutation," the captain replied, according to the speaker.

Suggests $100,000 Reward.

When Assistant State's Attorney Stansbury heard of the meeting of the city's leaders in business and the professions he said:

"If they want to help, the best way for them to do it is to raise enough money so a reward of $100,000 can be offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of these killers. Let them say it with money."

State's Attorney Swanson said he is officially proclaiming the reward of $20,000 authorized by the county board. He did not appear pleased by the action of the county commissioners in directing him to take the money from his own contingent fund if it is needed, but wherever it comes from it is now available, he said.

"There is no question but that the Moran mob had been under surveillance for two or three weeks," Capt. William Schoenaker said. "The spies of the killers had rooms across the street from the garage and they waited and watched until they thought they had them all together where a machine gun would put an end to the Moran gang forever."

Believes Uniforms Worn.

"There isn't any question in our minds now but that two of the slayers were police uniforms. But we do not think they were policemen, though they may have been on the force at one time."

Questions of the disposal of the bodies of the seven dead men were beginning to arise yesterday. Mrs. Frank Guenberg, widow of one of the slain men, called at the coroner's office and demanded that his effects be turned over to her. Guenberg had more than $900 and jewelry valued at $1,500 on her person at the time of his death.

Because there had been another woman who last week also claimed to be Mrs. Frank Guenberg, coroner Herman N. Dundesen refused yesterday's request. Later this woman was issued letters of administration by the probate court. She said her husband left about $100,000.

BILL WOULD LET STATE CONTROL CHICAGO POLICE

Measure Makes Governor Name Board.

BY CARL WARREN.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 29.—[Special.]—State control of Chicago's police department, which he designated as "hopelessly mired down in politics and badly in need of a housecleaning," was proposed to the Illinois senate this afternoon by Senator Adolph Marks, who represents the near south side district.

Senator Marks introduced a bill providing for the appointment of a board of police commissioners by the governor. The board would select one of its members to act as chief commissioner, fulfilling the functions of the present commissioner of police appointed by the judiciary. The new plan of state jurisdiction, Senator Marks explained, is modeled after that in effect in New York City.

Chicago Needs Cleaning Up.

"It certainly is high time something was done to clean up the Chicago police," the senator declared. "As everybody knows, it is up to its neck in the booze racket and almost helpless in the face of situations like that caused recently by the Moran gang massacre."

"The best way to restore confidence in the department is to take it away from the city entirely and let the state step in and take charge. I'm not against home rule, but the time has come when the lives and property of the citizens are more important than anything else. I expect to push this bill to the limit."

The Marks bill was referred to the committee on judiciary headed by Senator James J. Barbour of Evans-ton.

Police Bill Causes Flurry.

The flurry of interest caused by the police measure came at the close of a session occupied largely by the passage of amendments to the Chicago tax revaluation bills, because of their intricacy, have become known as "the Chicago puzzle bills."

The amendments presented by Senator Richard J. Barr were those drawn up at a conference of Gov. Emerson with Attorney General Carlstrom and senate leaders with a view to keeping downstate taxes out of the middle caused by the reassessment ordered in Cook county. The amendments, seventeen in all, were adopted and the measure, house bill No. 88, sent to third reading.

Senator Barr explained that the principle amendment was that allowing the state tax board to proceed with equalization of taxes upon the completion of assessments by three-fourths of the districts in the state. This would permit the collection of downstate taxes if the Cook county assessment is delayed.

Experts' Salaries Not Sound.

An amendment also was offered by Senator Barbour to house bill No. 1, another of the tax measures, to permit the employment of high salaries valuation experts. As amended in the house, the big salaries could be paid only until Jan. 1, 1930. This provision, according to Senator Barbour, is special legislation and "unconstitutional." His amendment provided that

LEGISLATIVE ACTS NOT VOIDED BY FAILURE TO REMAP, COURT RULES

The Illinois supreme court yesterday reaffirmed its position that failure of the state legislature to reapportion the state does not invalidate acts passed by the general assembly. The decision was rendered on the appeal of Frank Clardy of Chicago, who sought a reversal of a six months conviction for carrying a deadly weapon on the ground that he had been convicted under an act passed by an illegally constituted legislature.

"There is no indication in any of the provisions of the constitution," the high court judges' opinion read, "of an intention to penalize the people of this state to the extent that they should forfeit their right to elect subsequent legislatures in case any previous one had refused to apportion the state in the reapportionment districts; or that any members of a subsequent general assembly should not be permitted to hold office as such because of the fact that a preceding general assembly had refused to apportion the state."

"In other words, we hold that we are not authorized by the constitution of Illinois to declare that the general assembly that passed the deadly weapon act of 1925 is not a de jure legislative body."

After July 1, 1929, one expert may be hired at not more than $30 a day, five at not more than $20 a day, and all others at not more than $10 a day. The tax bills, as amended, probably will be read the third time and acted upon finally next Tuesday or Wednesday.

Prior to the evening session of the senate, both legislative houses continued to push along and grind out a list of legislation, passing several minor bills, advancing others and reporting a number out of committee.

School Warrant Bill Reported.

On the lower house side the education committee reported out favorably Representative John G. Garritto's bill, sponsored by the Chicago school board, allowing the board to pay 8 instead of 5 per cent on school tax anticipation warrants.

BYRD FINDS VAST ANTARCTIC LAND; NAMED FOR WIFE

New York, Feb. 29.—[U.P.]—The New York Times, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch and their associated newspapers announced tonight that Commander Richard E. Byrd, in an extensive airplane flight made with two planes last Monday, discovered and mapped in part a vast new territory in the antarctic, which he has claimed for the United States and has named for his wife, Marie Byrd land.

Commander Byrd has also discovered a second new mountain range, east and south of the first discovered by him recently and named the Rockefeller range. That range is within territory claimed by the British and known as the Ross dependency. The new range discovered on Monday is larger than the first and contains peaks between 4,000 and 10,000 feet high. It is outside the limit of the British claims and is in the new Marie Byrd land, which lies between Ross sea and Graham land.

Other peaks to the east of those were seen, indicating the probability of being able later to chart a territory greater in extent than the Ross dependency.

About 40,000 square miles of antarctic have now been explored from the air by the Byrd expedition. In the last flight the Rockefeller range was mapped by aerial cameras, the entire new section was sketched and the uncharted coastline east of the Bay of Wales, was mapped by Capt. Ashley McKinley of the Army Air Service, who was in the second of the two airplanes that made the flight.

CITY TO INSIST MOTOR BUS CO. GET FRANCHISE

Supreme Court Upholds
Right to License.

Small action to force the Chicago Motor Coach company to obtain a franchise from the city for the operation of its buses on the streets was dismissed last night following the decision of the state supreme court. In its suit brought by the company against the city, the ruling of the court held that cities have the authority to require license from buses operating on the streets, even though a certificate of convenience and necessity has been issued by the state commerce commission.

Attorneys for the city, pending the result of the complete ruling, were of the opinion that the city is now in a position to order the motor coach company to obtain a franchise from the city unless they obtain a license to operate. The effect of the decision, they said, will be to compel the Chicago Motor Coach company to obtain permission from the city council to run over the city streets in addition to the authority granted by the Illinois commerce commission.

Committee to Act.
All Thomas J. Bowler (41st), leader in the fight for feeder buses operated by the surface lines, announced that he would ask for a meeting of the council committee on local transportation next week.

Any action by the committee would be held up, it was pointed out, in case the coach company asked for a rehearing. A further delay might be occasioned also, it was said, by the company's appeal from two decisions of Judge Otto Kernan in the northwest feeder bus cases.

The Motor Coach company in its suit against the city contended that the city ordinances requiring a license are unconstitutional and contain unreasonable regulation. The supreme court, in its first ruling, held that the state has no authority over their streets, so far as the operation of buses is concerned, since the passage of the Illinois commerce commission act. Yesterday's decision was the result of a rehearing granted on the city's petition.

City Regulates Use, Court Holds.
"The city council has a right, in its discretion, to grant a license for the occupation of the streets without qualification, or may impose a fee therefor," the court held in its opinion on the arguments. "The ordinance involved does not purport to fix the conditions on which the consent of the city to the use of the streets may be had. It requires only that such consent be had and be evidenced by ordinance."

"The city is charged with the duty to regulate the use of the streets and no reason appears why the question as to what agency, not having the natural right to use the streets may do so, should not be determined by the ordinance."

"The operation of the buses is not likely to be discontinued by action of the council at this time," said James G. Gordon, general counsel for the motor coach company. "The question is not settled now than it was when the city asked for a rehearing on the matter. Even if we must go to the council for a license, I don't believe that the council will stop bus operation while negotiations are in progress."

Five Park Board Franchises.
It pointed out also that the buses operate on boulevards mostly, and that the company has a franchise from the park board for that.

"I don't see how the coaches can continue to operate without a permit from the city as well as a certificate of convenience and necessity from the commerce commission," Corporation Counsel Samuel A. Hittelson said. "This is another victory for the city in its fight for home rule."

COOLIDGE, 57, IS 'GOOD FOR 30 USEFUL YEARS'

Washington, D. C., Feb. 20.—(Special.) President Coolidge should have thirty years of useful life before him when he leaves the White House, according to Col. James F. Coupal, his official physician.

The president's health, Col. Coupal said today, is better than it was when he entered the White House. He has learned how to live, do his work, and keep strong and well.

When the president entered the White House he weighed 153 pounds. According to Col. Coupal, Mr. Coolidge is now slightly overweight, weighing approximately 163.

President Coolidge attributes his good health largely to regular habits and judicious exercise. He seldom has late hours, takes a short walk almost every day and often utilizes exercising machines kept in his room. He will be 57 on July 4.

SCHLESINGER IN SUDDEN DEATH; ONCE CHICAGOAN

Alfred S. C. Feb. 20.—(Special.)—Elmer Schlesinger, attorney and financier, died this afternoon of heart disease at the Palmetto clubhouse.

His widow, the former Eleanor Patterson of Chicago, left Washington for Alton immediately upon receiving the news. Funeral arrangements will be made on her arrival.

Mr. Schlesinger had complained of not feeling well while playing a round of golf and had returned to the club house. He died about ten minutes after the arrival of a physician, who had been hurriedly called.

Mr. Schlesinger, a member of the law firm of Chadbourne, Stanchfield & Levy, 120 Broadway, was passing a brief holiday at the winter resort as the guest of C. Oliver Iselen, New York financier, at the latter's country home, Hopelands.

Mr. Schlesinger was born in Chicago in 1880 and took a law degree at Harvard in 1908. He married Miss Hattie Schaffner in 1911. They were divorced in 1921. The first Mrs. Schlesinger now lives in New York City with their two children.

Mr. Schlesinger married the former Miss Patterson, whose first husband was the late Count Glynski of Poland, in 1925.

Mr. Schlesinger, vice president and general counsel for the United States shipping board for more than a year, organized many large corporations. He was a director of the Chicago Tribune, the New York Daily News, Liberty magazine, and the Libby-Owens Glass company.

At the Field museum a free moving picture for school children will be shown on "Yorktown" and "Washington and Alexander Hamilton." TRAIN DERAILED ON EMBANKMENT; 5 MINERS KILLED

4 Others May Die; Cars
Plunge 25 Feet.

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 20.—(Special.)—Five miners were killed, four were seriously hurt they may die and about 150 others suffered less serious injuries today when four cars of an eight coach train of the Peoria Terminal Railway company plunged over a 25 foot embankment near Hollis, five miles south of here.

The train, carrying about 750 miners to work at the Crescent coal mine, fifteen miles south of Peoria, was proceeding at the rate of only 15 or 16 miles an hour, miners and railroad officials said. One of the coaches was thrown off the tracks by what miners said was a broken rail and broken "fish plate," the iron bar connecting the rails.

Four Cars Filled in Ditch.
One car after another tumbled down the embankment with their loads of from 60 to 75 miners each, until four cars were piled in the ditch, some of them almost upside down, others on their sides. A fifth car left the tracks and slid part way down the bank but stood erect.

In some of the cars were coal stoves and one of them was set afire by the overturned stove. The blaze was extinguished before it had spread to other cars, but not before a miner was probably fatally burned. He was pulled from the car by another miner.

Forty Injured in Hospital.
Tonight forty injured men still were in hospitals and about 100 others had been treated for minor injuries and taken to their homes. Those killed were William Brown, Lester Jones, George Wilkinson, Cecil Walker, and Charles Luthy, all residing in or near Peoria. Among those so seriously hurt that they may die were James Clark, Henry Zorn, and Henry Zimmerman.

Many of the miners charged that the "fish plate" blamed partly for the wreck had been broken for several days and both the railroad and the county authorities started an investigation. Coroner William Elliott announced that an inquest into the deaths will be opened tomorrow.

H. I. Battles, manager of the Peoria Terminal railway, said he believed the rail which broke had been crystallized, due to the extreme cold. He said the right of way had been inspected regularly and was in good condition, although some of the miners disputed this statement.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—Gen. Bramwell Booth's condition has taken a turn for the worse and he is now too ill to see any one, it was stated this morning. A number of Salvationists called from Southampton for America yesterday, but Commander Bramwell Booth decided to remain here another week in hope she might see her brother.

HOOVER VISITS COOLIDGE FOR AN HOUR'S CHAT

See Inaugural Towers from White House.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., Feb. 20.—(Special.)—President Coolidge and President Hoover talked together for nearly an hour in the White House this afternoon.
It was a rare day with a touch of snow on the lawn. From the windows of the room where they chatted they could see the rising towers of the inaugural parade stands, which are being built along Pennsylvania avenue.
These stark tiers of new lumber, the sound of busy hammers, told the story of the coming change to the two men.
Mr. Coolidge, in shaking off the affairs of the state, is going out into the world with honor, a contented heart and the knowledge that he has the love and affection of millions.
Mr. Hoover, already harassed by appointments and policies, is ready to take up the task.
President Set Hour.
The meeting today was an answer, in a way, to the whispering around town that his arrival so long before inauguration is embarrassing to the president. Mr. Coolidge called this morning for an appointment, and the President set the time for 3 o'clock.
During the remaining days of waiting, Mr. Hoover will not make any public appearances, will not talk, and will remain at home except for automobile rides. He will receive a few persons there by invitation, but his home will not become a sort of second White House, with open door and throngs of callers.
His secretary, George Akerson, will establish a contact with the outside world in a room in a downtown hotel.
In the meantime, news writers were forced to cover Mr. Hoover from cars which were kept waiting in front of his home in S street.
Good Visits Hoover.
James W. Good of Chicago was at the Hoover home last evening and called again this morning. He is the western manager for the Hoover campaign, and at one time was expected to be named national chairman.
As an administrator and political expert, he has been discussed for the Hoover cabinet, the place being assigned to him is that of postmaster general. Mr. Good today denied that he is an aspirant for this job and it is said that he asked Postmaster General Harry New recently not to urge him for this place from which Mr. New is ready to retire.
Mr. Good's law practice is said to be such that he would not be willing to make a financial sacrifice of this.
Mr. Hoover, however, may have different views and in view of the peculiar difficulties confronting him in dealing with the postmaster patronage situation in the southern states, it is not unlikely that he has asked Mr. Good to take over the job.
Won't Comment on Adams.
Mr. Hoover is doing his best to keep his cabinet a secret until March 4. It was printed in a Boston paper this morning that Charles Francis Adams, treasurer of Harvard and descendant of two Presidents, had been asked to resign into the official family. Mr. Hoover would not comment on this.
In view of Mr. Adams' great interest in yachting, it is surmised that the place is secretary of the navy. Mr. Adams, accompanied by Louis K. Liggett, national committeeman from Massachusetts, had luncheon with Mr. Hoover in Miami recently.
Mr. Hoover conferred with Representative John Q. Tilson of Connecticut, Republican leader of the house, and Senator James E. Watson of Indiana, who will be the majority floor leader in the senate, relative to the date for calling the special session this spring and the program for that session.

ARMISTICE ENDS MARITAL WAR OF COL. FRED RAND

When Judge O. K.'s Peace Terms He'll Disarm.

An armistice was announced yesterday in the two years' marital war of Col. Fred E. Rand, medical supply manufacturer and commander of the 132d Illinois National Guard infantry, and his wife, Mrs. Amy Virginia Rand, 61 North Central avenue.
A peace treaty has been arranged, it was said, and all that remains to be done before the disarmament is for Circuit Judge Stanley Klarkowski to ratify the terms.
The bombardment and counter fire of bitter charges that have been exchanged by the Rands for the last 24 months came to a close with the dismissal of the old pleadings, and the filing of a new bill by the colonel asking for a decree on a formal allegation of desertion. Attorney George L. Quilley, representing the wife, said the case will not be contested.
Thus the Rand divorce war will end as it started, without sensation. The couple were married in 1926. Early in 1927 the colonel filed a bill not unlike yesterday's, setting up a formal case. Two months after he fired the first shot, Mrs. Rand made a minor counter attack with a cross bill alleging drunkenness. Then the fight began.
Uses Aggressive Tactics.
As aggressive in tactics as the machine gun company he commanded in the A. E. F., the colonel's divorce strategy was based on the military principle that the best defense is a strong offense. He dropped a barrage of amended complaints, motions and legal notices upon his wife's camp. Mrs. Rand released her reserves and went over the top with an amended cross bill, charging her husband with as many acts of misconduct.
They came overtures of peace. Attorney, acting as diplomat, declared an armistice and drew up the treaty, under which Col. Rand will get a decree on an innocuous desertion charge and Mrs. Rand will receive reparations in the form of a financial settlement.
RAID TWO SPYHOUSES.
Chicago police raided two spyhouses yesterday, arresting the proprietors and their patrons and confiscating quantities of liquor. The places raided were those of Joseph Giovanni, 613 North Wells street, and J. McDonald's Grotto café, 158 West Grand avenue.

DRY CHIEF ASKS LOCAL HELP ON VOLSTEAD JOB

Says States and Cities Should Aid U. S.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 20.—(AP)—Intelligent cooperation by state and municipal governments and not mere concentration of power in the federal government was declared tonight by James M. Doran, prohibition commissioner, to be the pathway that will lead to more effective enforcement of prohibition.

Speaking before the department of economics and sociology of Yale university, the commissioner charged that unsatisfactory conditions existing in some communities "are due almost without exception to the absent fallacy of local authority to assume its proper obligation, and to enforce the criminal law."
"The federal government," he said, "has substantially fulfilled its obligation under the concurrent clause of the eighteenth amendment."
"I am impressed with the fact," continued Doran, "that public discussion revolves almost entirely on the effectiveness or ineffectiveness of the enforcement of the law by the federal government, and the facts upon which these discussions are based relate almost entirely to local retail sales situations that are distinctly and unquestionably the province of state or local authority to handle."
Commissioner Doran declared that the movement on the part of some local authorities to "evade and sidestep their responsibilities took form as soon as the national prohibition act became a law." In some cities, he said, corrupt political machines through police departments made alliances with the underworld, and built up illicit liquor rings.
Doran defended the agents of the federal prohibition bureau as being "as clean as any body of men of like number in any service throughout the land." He suggested that employees of federal district attorneys' offices throughout the country be placed under civil service.
The commissioner appealed for cooperation between federal and state authorities and said it was possible that making the purchase of liquor a specific crime might aid in reducing the demand.

STEWART SAYS FOES FIGHT HIM WITH DECEPTION

"Come Out in Open Like Men," His Challenge.

Col. Robert W. Stewart late yesterday made public a statement denouncing as unfair and deceptive the methods which he charges the forces headed by John D. Rockefeller Jr. are using to oust him as director and chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana at the annual stockholders' meeting on March 7. His remarks were addressed to the 56,293 stockholders of the $900,000,000 corporation.
The Stewart statement is largely an answer to one by Winthrop W. Aldrich, brother-in-law of Mr. Rockefeller and head of the Rockefeller proxy committee, ten days ago.
Col. Stewart calls the Aldrich statement "a grossly unfair deception—unfair because it was largely insinuation rather than accusation—a deception of omission as well as of statement."

Mayor Thompson Grooms Hero of Vestris Disaster

Lionel Lloriah, West Indian hero of the Vestris disaster, in which he saved the lives of twenty passengers and members of the crew, was greeted yesterday by Mayor Thompson at a reception in the council chambers. He was praised by the mayor for his rescue work and given an ovation by two hundred representatives of the colored residents of the city.

ASK BRITISH LAW FOR STERILIZING OF DEFECTIVES

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

LONDON, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Drastic proposals to prevent the marriage of Great Britain's mentally unfit and diseased are contained in a plan forwarded to the ministry of health tonight by the grand council of the Citizens' union. Legalization of sterilization under proper safeguards is urged. Fifty of the leading representatives of the church, the law, medicine, and philanthropy signed the memorandum.

The need of action in England is particularly pressing, the signatories urge, because, largely owing to the lack of state intervention, thousands of diseased and mentally deficient babies are being kept alive.
"It is notorious that many of the soundest families for economic reasons are restricting their birth rate, while we are spending millions on children who will be the curse of their families and a burden to the state," says the memorandum. The last report of the British board of control which is responsible for the administration of the lunacy acts urged "that definite legislation be enacted" to prevent the marriage of defectives.

CHARGES SCRAMBLE FOR FROXIES

The colonel says the Rockefeller forces have placed the battle on a low plane. He charges they have "indeed made it a wild scramble for proxies" on their part. He says it started on a high enough plane, so avowed by Rockefeller Jr., but he adds:
"Then Mr. Rockefeller Jr. mailed for Egypt."
"That Mr. Aldrich and the press agent, Ivy Lee," the statement continues, "with or without Mr. Rockefeller's approval, should resort to such an unfair and libelous attack (statement of Feb. 10) should displease once and for all any idea some people may still cherish that there is any 'moral' issue involved. Such an attack is the antithesis of morality."
"If there were a moral issue, why the inability to state it, much less to prove it? Why does it become necessary to bring into action against me the subtle coercive power of the wealth of the Rockefellers and their associates and of the companies dominated by them?"
Says He Can Prove Falshoods.
"If these persons have anything definite with which to charge me, why do they not come out into the open like men and say so? In any court in this land I can prove before judge

GALLOWAY SEEN AS BEST BET IN 50TH WARD RACE

Gains as Mose and Mellin Clash on Thompsonism.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
On Chicago's northern frontier, the 50th ward race is drawing to a close. A hard-fought battle, which began last night, with Wiley K. Galloway apparently leading the field, in the opinion of the ward politicians. There are six candidates. The night saw a hectic campaign between the supporters of Ald. A. E. Mose and of Curtis F. Mellin, who had each other with accusations of being the Thompsonite enemy.

Mr. Galloway, who has been in the ward for over 20 years and is a professional man and more than 1,000 other residents of the ward, was given commendation last night by Dean John H. Wigmore of Northwestern university law school, of which Galloway is a graduate. "A man of brains, industry, honesty, and independence," said the dean, "who would honorably and effectively fill the position of alderman."

Denouncing Support Galloway.
Factionally speaking, Galloway is supported by the Deane camp as a nonpartisan candidate, and his manager is ex-senator William M. Brown, who is secretary to President Howard W. Elmore of the sanitary district. His supporters point to the report of the M. V. L., which speaks of him as a man of "intelligence, independence, and integrity."

Galloway, who was born on a farm in La Salle county, Illinois, spent his early years in California, where he became foreman of a San Francisco printing shop. He studied law outside working hours and was admitted to the bar, but two years of legal work convinced him he did not have sufficient training. So he came to Chicago and entered the newspaper field as a typewriter operator on the Tribune. Working full time at his machine, he entered Northwestern's law school and in his first year made the honor roll. He crowded the full four year course into three years by attending summer school. All of this time he was working at his trade at night.

For three years Galloway served as chairman of the newspaper scale committee of the Chicago Typographical union, one of the most responsible positions in unorganized labor in Chicago. Seven years ago he went into the practice of law and has since handled all kinds of civil litigation.

Gaining On Opponents.
For the last two weeks, leaders have been reporting that Galloway has been making most headway, and that he is drawing from independent Republicans and nonpartisans a support that makes them regard him as the most likely candidate to get into the run-off election on April 2.

Meanwhile the Mose and Mellin camps are treating each other to a terrific bombardment. Ald. Mose has the support of the Brundage Republicans, led by County Commissioner Louis Nettelhorst, ward committee-man. This faction charges that Mellin has the support of Richard R. Prendergast and the old Crowe-Thompson machine. The Mellin partisans in turn, allege that the city hall patronage is given to Nettelhorst and Mose. Mr. Prendergast, who was the defeated Crowe-Thompson candidate for committeeman last April, declares he was thrown out of his job at the board of education because he refused to follow the lead of the mayor and Corporation Counsel Etzelson and support Ald. Mose.

Both Dodge Thompsonism.
The Mose factionists come back with a memorandum or two on political history, charging that Mr. Mellin and Mr. Prendergast were "American Firsters" but are trying to bloom out now as nonpartisans. Neither side wants the label "Thompsonism," and each side is trying to pin the tag on the other.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 20.—Lillian Gish and her sister, Dorothy Gish Remick, motion picture actresses, who had contracts calling for combined salaries of more than a million dollars in 1924 and 1925, today appealed to the board of tax appeals to set aside the ruling of the commissioner of internal revenue that they must pay deficiencies in tax amounting to $61,483.

In her petition Lillian Gish said she had a contract with the Metro-Goldwyn corporation in 1925 which called for a total of $7,500 a week. She assigned her contract to the Players, Inc., a Delaware corporation, for a "valuable consideration," to which concern her employers paid $123,973.

In making her tax return she did not include the money called for in the contract, contending she had not received it. The commissioner ruled that, while she had a right to assign her salary, she had received the money and must pay the tax.

Mrs. Remick set forth that she had a contract with the Inspiration Pictures for fifteen months at $1,500 to $2,500 a week and a share of the profits. She also assigned her salary to Players, Inc. The firm collected $45,500 in 1925. She did not include the amount in her income tax return on the ground that she had not received the money. The commissioner ruled she had received it.

Denouncing Support Galloway.

Factionally speaking, Galloway is supported by the Deane camp as a nonpartisan candidate, and his manager is ex-senator William M. Brown, who is secretary to President Howard W. Elmore of the sanitary district. His supporters point to the report of the M. V. L., which speaks of him as a man of "intelligence, independence, and integrity."

Galloway, who was born on a farm in La Salle county, Illinois, spent his early years in California, where he became foreman of a San Francisco printing shop. He studied law outside working hours and was admitted to the bar, but two years of legal work convinced him he did not have sufficient training. So he came to Chicago and entered the newspaper field as a typewriter operator on the Tribune. Working full time at his machine, he entered Northwestern's law school and in his first year made the honor roll. He crowded the full four year course into three years by attending summer school. All of this time he was working at his trade at night.

For three years Galloway served as chairman of the newspaper scale committee of the Chicago Typographical union, one of the most responsible positions in unorganized labor in Chicago. Seven years ago he went into the practice of law and has since handled all kinds of civil litigation.

Gaining On Opponents.
For the last two weeks, leaders have been reporting that Galloway has been making most headway, and that he is drawing from independent Republicans and nonpartisans a support that makes them regard him as the most likely candidate to get into the run-off election on April 2.

Meanwhile the Mose and Mellin camps are treating each other to a terrific bombardment. Ald. Mose has the support of the Brundage Republicans, led by County Commissioner Louis Nettelhorst, ward committee-man. This faction charges that Mellin has the support of Richard R. Prendergast and the old Crowe-Thompson machine. The Mellin partisans in turn, allege that the city hall patronage is given to Nettelhorst and Mose. Mr. Prendergast, who was the defeated Crowe-Thompson candidate for committeeman last April, declares he was thrown out of his job at the board of education because he refused to follow the lead of the mayor and Corporation Counsel Etzelson and support Ald. Mose.

Both Dodge Thompsonism.
The Mose factionists come back with a memorandum or two on political history, charging that Mr. Mellin and Mr. Prendergast were "American Firsters" but are trying to bloom out now as nonpartisans. Neither side wants the label "Thompsonism," and each side is trying to pin the tag on the other.

letter signed by Herbert B. Phillips, chairman of the society's public service committee and addressed to the city council finance committee, denied that his organization had endorsed any aldermanic candidates.

"Recently a letter was sent out on the letterhead of the civic safety commission, carrying the names of a number of dentists," the communication read. "The wording of this letter has seemed to some to imply an endorsement by organized dentistry of the list of aldermanic candidates sponsored by the above mentioned commission."

"The Chicago Dental society is a nonpolitical organization and has not endorsed the safety commission nor its candidates. Many of the men whose names appear in the letter did not know they were endorsing aldermanic candidates, and did not know there was a list of candidates in the letter sent out."

As 5th ward rally in honor of Ald. William D. Meyer was to be held at Hirsch Junior High school tonight under the auspices of the executive men's ward organization, speakers are to include Howard Savage, former national commander of the American Legion. The gathering is to be in the nature of a protest against the fight made on Meyerling, anti-Thompsonism, by the civic safety.

The Municipal Voters' league last night sent out a correction of its report on Fred E. Burke, candidate in the Sixth ward against Ald. Guy Guernsey. It says, "At no time has Mr. Burke been a supporter of the Crowe-Thompson-Snow organization. The league regrets the error."

There is no question that the so-called indifference of the British ambassador to Washington has stirred up the British to faster thinking about Anglo-American naval relationship and members of the government are now canvassing the whole situation afresh with a view to the earliest possible resumption of negotiations. At the same time it is not any one's fault that they have been delayed.

First in the order of the events creating the present situation came the abortive Anglo-French pact and its rejection by America. The final paragraph of the Hellogny note rejecting the pact left the door open for a fresh approach. America was then in the throes of the approaching presidential election and the British felt that there was no time to make fresh proposals.

Then came the cruiser bill in congress and again Great Britain did not fail to agree on program to fix reparations

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PARIS, Feb. 20.—Following a report by the subcommittee of the Young commission concerning the German reparations must pay, certain divergences of opinion arose today. The committee was given another day to frame further plans for overcoming the difficulties.

The subcommittee's report was read to the plenary conference by Sir Josiah Stamp. It required 45 minutes.

Both Thomas Lamont and J. P. Morgan, American delegates, denied rumors that the conference is deadlocked. They insisted the delay is purely mechanical. The Germans appear pessimistic and assert the atmosphere prevents them from submitting proposals for the actual annuities which Germany can afford to pay.

Mr. Schiller, as assistant corporation counsel under Francis X. Busch during the Deane regime, was the city's sole legal representative in the real estate experts' case which culminated in a judgment of $2,245,000 for the taxpayers. At his meetings last night, he said it seemed he would resign for the resignation of M. J. Faherty as head of the board of local improvements.

Dr. McNally set the ward agog with an open challenge to Albert R. Bruner. "Ald. Chapman carried the Thompson banner two years ago and he does now," said Dr. McNally. "Mr. Bruner of the civic safety commission announces the endorsement of Ald. Chapman. In the next breath he attacks, ridicules, and condemns other members of the city council, charging them with being affiliated with 'Big Bill.' Yet documentary evidence was presented to Bruner showing the connections, affiliations, and endorsements of Mayor Thompson for Ald. Chapman. We ask Mr. Bruner what does he really stand for? Is he playing both ends against the middle? I challenge him to a public debate."

Asked About German Cruiser.
Commander Kenworthy also asked if the admiralty was in possession of any details of the new mystery German battleship, a drawing of which was exclusively published in the Chicago Tribune a fortnight ago. Lieut. Col. C. Headlam replying for the first time of the admiralty, W. C. Bridgman, who was not present, said the admiralty had no information beyond the details published in the press. Commander Kenworthy reported that he thought that under the treaty of Versailles the admiralty was entitled to full information and ought not to have to rely on the press.

desire to do anything that might be interpreted as trying to influence the course of the bill. Now that that is out of the way there is the objection that a new administration at Washington is coming in in a couple of weeks and then there will be the British general election in six or eight weeks during which period nothing can be done.

Conservatives May Lose.
It is also becoming more and more uncertain if the Conservatives will be in power after the election. If they are returned it is certain that they will have prepared some sort of naval agreement plan which will be laid before America as one of the first acts of their administration. It is certain that this offer will be accompanied by some dramatic offer, such as the neutralization of the Caribbean sea, as foretold exclusively in the Tribune two days ago. This is now being seriously discussed, and, of course, is meeting with some opposition from politicians and officials who believe it would be a serious blow to British prestige.

If the Labor party wins the election, it is also certain that they will try to signalize their attainment of power by reaching an agreement with America, but if they have any plan it has not yet been disclosed.

FINDS BULL CALF CAN BE MADE TO PRODUCE MIL

SPAIN DISSOLVES ARTILLERY CORPS, FOE OF DICTATOR

Called Master Stroke to Consolidate Power.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
(Chicago Tribune Staff Writer.)
MADRID, Feb. 20.—Prime de Rivera has consolidated his power as dictator of Spain with a drastic royal decree, published today, dissolving the artillery corps of the Spanish army, some members of which helped to plot the recent revolts at Valencia and Ciudad Real.

By the decree, which was signed by King Alfonso at yesterday's meeting of the cabinet, all officers of the artillery corps are dismissed without salary and become private citizens, without the right to wear uniforms or have military privileges. The classes of the royal artillery academy at Segovia, near Madrid, also are dismissed. The exact number of officers affected is not known, but will approach 1,000.

Disarm Troops to Barracks.
All private soldiers today were ordered to their barracks, while officers of the infantry and other branches of the service took over command of the artillery posts.

Because of the censorship and police repression, it is impossible to say how the decree will be taken by the officers. At several artillery garrisons about Madrid it apparently passed off without incident. The infantry took over command and the artillery officers departed. At other centers it is reported that trouble took place. However, it is the general belief that most of the officers will be reintegrated after having taken a new oath to defend the government and the present régime.

The decree provides, however, that any military officer who has taken the oath of loyalty to the king and country and also the present government, against which they seditionously proceeded.

The decree further provides that those who wish to reenter the service must submit their requests in writing, which will be given consideration.

Madrid tonight is unexcited. The decree is regarded as a master stroke by Premier de Rivera, dispelling rumors of his differences with the king or a possibility of his resigning. In covering letter Premier de Rivera charges that, far from appreciating his leniency two years ago, the officers have shown lack of discipline and have done their best to cause unrest throughout Spain.

EPSTEIN QUIZZED
BY GRAND JURORS
ON PRIMARY VOTE
Dr. Samuel Epstein, former coroner's physician, was called before the grand jury at a special session yesterday afternoon to be questioned about the conditions in his precinct, the 7th of the 20th ward, on primary day, April 10, 1932. He was called on to sign an immunity waiver by Special Assistant State's Attorney Edwin J. Maher and Grover C. Niemeyer.

The election returns showed that all the Thompson-Crowe-Eller candidates received 693 votes in Dr. Epstein's precinct, while the rival Republican candidates received not to exceed 3 votes, and in most cases only 1 vote. The original election judges and clerks appointed to the precinct did not serve, it is charged, but instead well known 20th ward characters were called in. They signed fictitious names to the returns, according to the prosecutors.

Dr. Epstein, although for years a precinct captain in the organization of Morris Eller, city collector, told the jurors that he knew nothing of the situation in his precinct.

MUNDELEIN LOAN GIVES PAPAL CITY TOUCH OF MODERN

New College to Form
Part of Boundary.

ROME, Feb. 20.—[U.P.]—As a mute but imposing testimony of American representation in the heart of Catholic Christendom, the new massive College of the Propaganda Fide, is being built through a loan negotiated by George Cardinal Mundelein, archbishop of Chicago, will be one of the biggest and certainly the most modern structure in the new papal state, as the site forms the southeast boundary.

The new college will complete the left flank of St. Peter's square while the historic Vatican palaces form the right, looking toward St. Peter's cathedral. It will fittingly complete the symmetry of the scene, as until now the left of St. Peter's square was occupied by nondescript buildings with the rising Janiculum hill directly behind.

The new college is in course of construction on the slope of the hill. All the excavating has been completed and the slope leveled to provide the area necessary for the edifice. Large masses of earth were shifted from the high part to the low, bringing the general level of what will be the ground floor to the height of the ramparts built by Pope Paul III, which form a buttress wall against the Janiculum hill. The position of the college, immediately on top of the ramparts, will give it an imposing architectural effect.

The entire site covers nearly three acres and included in the new papal state will lend an air of modernity to the pope's dominions, as compared with the overpowering medieval architectural beauties of St. Peter's cathedral and its adjoining colonnade.

SOLONS VOTE TO IMPEACH JUDGE PAID BY AIMEE

Evangelist Berated in 5

Sacramento, Cal., Feb. 20.—[U.P.]—The assembly here today voted to impeach Superior Judge Charles H. Hardy of Los Angeles for alleged misdeeds in office. The vote was 57 to 13. The vote was taken after five hours of argument following introduction of impeachment recommendations by four members of a special committee which charges that Judge Hardy violated the state constitution by accepting a $2,500 check from Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, Los Angeles evangelist.

The payment was held to be for legal services rendered during his term of office. The constitution states that no judge of a record court shall practice law.

The assembly's action will be conveyed to the senate, and the upper house will proceed as the court of impeachment to try Judge Hardy. F. C. Clowdley of Stockton, a member of the investigating committee, voted against adoption of the report.

Aimee Hotly Berated.
Mrs. McPherson was bitterly attacked by assemblymen during speeches on the impeachment proposal. Harry Sewell, a member of the investigating committee, declared that when she disappeared and reappeared two years ago ninety-nine per cent of the population in Los Angeles believed she had "perpetrated a gigantic hoax."

Chairman Walter J. Little of the committee, in urging impeachment, said that Mrs. McPherson's claim that her payment of $2,500 was merely a gift to Judge Hardy "insults the intelligence."

Little said the committee regarded Judge Hardy's admission of having advised the temple management on the form and issuance of membership certificates and other similar matters as constituting legal advice.

Kidnaping Mentioned.
Mrs. McPherson's story of being kidnaped was broached when Little declared Judge Hardy admitted directing investigations by detective agencies in Carmel, Cal.; Arizona, and elsewhere, of addressing her corps of attorneys, and of reviewing "publicity circulated by the temple."

The fact that a newspaper man of Santa Barbara, declaring he had seen Mrs. McPherson and Kenneth Ormiston, her radio operator, together in that city during her disappearance, changed his statement after being visited by Judge Hardy and warned about "identifying people," was cited by Little as evidence of Hardy's interest and influence in Mrs. McPherson's behalf.

KEYES IS GIVEN 1-14 YRS. AMID SOBS OF FAMILY

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 20.—[U.P.]—In the courtroom where his pleasent William Edward Hickman to the gallows, former district attorney Am Keyes late today was sentenced to serve from 1 to 14 years in San Quentin prison for bribery conspiracy in office.

Ed Rosenberg, charged with paying the former prosecutor $125,000 to obtain his dismissal in the Julian Petroleum corporation trials, also received a 1 to 14 year term.

Sentencing of Ben Getzoff, their asserted go-between, was postponed to permit him to file an application for probation.

Getzoff, broken in health, has been confined to the county jail hospital since his conviction two weeks ago. Physicians believe he would not survive prison confinement.

Before passing sentence, Superior Judge Edward L. Butler denied motion for a new trial.

Keyes Family in Tears.
Keyes and Rosenberg took their sentence calmly, but Keyes' wife and their daughter, Elizabeth, wept silently.

Getzoff was so weak he had to be supported by two deputy sheriffs as he stood before the court.

Judge Butler said: "Am Keyes, I sentence you to serve in San Quentin prison the sentence required by law. You are remanded to the sheriff of Los Angeles county to be transported to prison."

Keyes then left his counsel's side and joined his wife and daughter. He spoke to them comfortingly in a low tone.

Defense attorneys requested a ten day stay of execution and asked that

POLITICS SPOILS TAX VALUATION, WOMEN ARE TOLD

Speaker Doubts Value to Property Owner.

Cook county's property assessment, now in progress, will effect no more than a temporary benefit to taxpayers, because "assessment figures constitute the chief instrument of party patronage," declared John O. Heise, director of the joint commission on real estate valuation, yesterday before the Illinois and Cook County League of Women Voters at their institute of politics at the University of Chicago.

"There will undoubtedly be a benefit for a year, because of the pressure to get tax bills out as soon as the assessment is completed," he said. "By that time the various governing groups will be desperately in need of money, and there will be no time to tinker. But the assessment figures will soon and rapidly degenerate into the same condition as at present, because they constitute the chief instrument of party patronage."

Cries Delay of Months.
"There was five months of stalling in an effort to evade the reassessment," Mr. Heise told the women. "Now every one but one member of the board of review is well convinced that the order established legal rights and must be complied with. The cry is that reassessment should be done next year, but in 1927, when efforts were made to obtain such an order, Homer Gaspin refused to permit it." Another speaker, E. G. Griffenhagen, president of the Civil Service association, declared that civil service would provide a permanent cure for the evils now besetting the sanitary district. He also introduced a bill in the legislature this week which would place all but twelve posts in the sanitary district under civil service, and Mr. Griffenhagen declared the bill has the approval of some of the sanitary trustees, notably Ross A. Woodhull, Henry Berger, and Howard W. Elmore.

Only One Alternative.
"The only alternative to the application of the merit system in civil employment is the spoils system," Mr. Griffenhagen asserted. "The spoils idea, simply expressed, is that public offices are so much loot to be captured by warring political factions, the victors using the jobs and contracts to pay campaign expenses out of the public treasury."

Gas in Ice Sealed Pit Explodes; Windows Broken
Accumulated gas in an ice sealed subterranean chamber at Elston and Fullerton avenues exploded last night with a concussion that shattered a manhole cover and the front windows of restaurants at 2401 Elston avenue and 1947 Fullerton avenue, as well as a mail and hop store at 1845 Fullerton avenue. Thomas Fitchelich, 18 years old, 2041 Fullerton avenue, was cut by flying glass as he waited at the corner for a street car.

HOOVER PARADE MARCH 4 TO BE COLOR PAGEANT

Inaugural Plans Have Been Completed.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 20.—(Special.)—Plans for the presidential inaugural parade have been completed and the various components assigned to their places in the line of march.

As announced today by the inaugural committee, the colorful spectacle will be composed of a grand marshal's section and two grand divisions. As grand marshal, Maj. Gen. Charles F. Summerall, army chief of staff, will lead the marching units as they march past the reviewing stand where Herbert Hoover, the new President, will have the place of honor.

Military in First Division.
The first grand division will be made up entirely of military units, including representatives from the army, navy, marine corps, coast guard, district National Guard, naval militia, and officers' reserve corps.

The second division will be composed of all other units, including at least twenty-eight governors, representatives of two state legislatures, the staffs and National Guard units of the various states, the American Legion and other veterans' organizations, patriotic organizations, national societies, marching clubs, and all other units which have been given places in the line of march.

Sky Parade Features.
While these units are swinging down Pennsylvania avenue on the way to the White House, a sky parade, made up of fifty army planes, the most brilliant Los Angeles, and other aircraft, will sweep in formation across the heart of the capital.

The state of Illinois will be nineteenth in the line of states, according to an announcement made today by Hubert Work, chairman of the Republican national committee, who has been named marshal of the second division. Maj. William E. Sheild of the war department general staff has been designated as the military aid and liaison officer for Gov. Louis L. Birmahon of Illinois.

HANGMAN DONS OPERA DRESS TO PUT 4 TO DEATH

(Chicago Tribune Press Service)

KAGREH, Jugo-Slavia, Feb. 20.—When Franz Hardt, the official executioner for Jugo-Slavia, put four bandits to death by hanging here today, he did it with a dignity befitting the occasion. He was dressed in a full dress suit, silk hat, and immaculate white gloves.

Hardt was twice delayed, first because he could not scrape up the carfare from Belgrade, and a second time when he was caught en route by snowstorms. The hanging of the four desperadoes finally occurred at dawn today when Franz Hardt appeared as though dressed for the opera.

The four gallows were not as modern nor as humanitarian as those in Chicago. There are no traps and six foot tables are used when the rope and the victim are ready. A husky piano mover pushes the table over but it falls too short to bring about instant strangulation. The executioner adjusted the rope on the first victim and as soon as the table was turned over the second victim was brought and made to witness the ordeal of his comrade. A similar procedure was followed with the third and fourth victims until the executioner called it a day. He then doffed his white gloves and called at the prison office for his fee of $60.

The four condemned men had boasted of eighteen murders.

MOTHER ADMITS LIQUOR RUNNING; BLAMES HUSBAND

Mrs. Elizabeth Cronin, 1687 East 14th place, admitted under cross-examination yesterday in her contested suit for separation that she for some time operated a booze par between Detroit and Chicago.

She declared that she was forced to take up this business, dodging hucksters and prohibition agents, because her husband, Michael J. Cronin, an interior painter, deserted her four years ago, leaving her to support their two children, a girl, 18 years old, and a boy, 16.

"She quit the liquor running a couple of months ago, she said, because she feared her children would suffer."

"WHEN ALL ELSE FAILED, KONJOLA SCORED TRIUMPH"

New and Different Method of 32 Ingredients Winning Victories Throughout Chicago.

"When all else failed, Konjola triumphed!" "The medicine I should have had in the first place!" "The first and only medicine to give me relief!"

Exclamations such as these are heard daily throughout Chicago from happy men and women who have given a trial to Konjola, the new medicine, which was introduced in Chicago for the first time just a week ago.

THE KONJOLA MAN

You think it remarkable that a medicine could prove its worth in a week? It is remarkable—YET TRUE! Konjola works quickly; one does not wait for results when Konjola is given a chance, for this medicine of 32 ingredients, 22 of them the juice of roots and herbs, goes straight to the very causes of disease. How this marvelous remedy, the most talked-of medicine in America, has achieved such fame and does such amazing things is being explained daily by a Konjola Man near you. There are six of these personal representatives of the master medicine in Chicago, located as follows:

The Walgreen drug store, Randolph and State; Walgreen drug store, Wabash and Van Buren; Walgreen drug store, Washington and State; the Economical drug store, Lawrence and Lincoln; the Walgreen drug store, Sixty-third and Cottage Grove, and the Walgreen drug store, Madison and Kedzie avenues.

They are here to tell you of this modern medicine for the stomach, liver and bowels, and for neuritis, rheumatism and nervousness. They have come to give you the story of their own promises and claims—but to give you the facts, the evidence, the proof of Konjola's amazing triumphs over ill that have baffled and defied all other medicines and treatments tried. You will be shown the experiences of others who, after years of suffering, found quick and lasting relief in this super-medicine. Indeed, Konjola seems at the peak of its power, at the apex of its excellence, in defeating just such stubborn and obstinate cases. These glad experiences must interest all who suffer, for they state the new and glorious health that others will enjoy who put their faith in this modern medicine.

Konjola goes to the root of things; it goes after the cause of the ailment. Konjola is not concerned with mere temporary relief, but with complete recovery. It contains no drugs; it deadens the nerves and gives fleeting, deceptive relief, leaving the sufferer worse off than before. It contains no heart-depressing chemicals. It is a remedy that Nature might have compounded. It achieves startling results in the ill of the aged, of those who are in the prime of life, and in the ailments of the infant. Konjola is all medicine, every drop, and every drop works. Konjola does, indeed, work quickly. Thousands in Chicago know this today who had never heard of Konjola a week ago. That is why Konjola is sold in cartons in more than a score of America's greatest cities. If you are ill give yourself a chance by giving Konjola a chance.

WRIT BLOCKS USE OF SPECIAL FUND FOR FRAUD JURY

Charge Appropriation of $225,000 Illegal.

Judge Harry M. Fisher in a temporary injunction yesterday restraining expenditure of the special fund appropriated by the board to pay for the special jury investigation of crimes at the April 15 primary.

Assistant State's Attorney Frank J. Loeck, who was in charge of the investigation as a special assistant attorney general, last night said that even if the injunction remained after a final hearing of the case he will not permit the proceedings to be embarrassed.

"If necessary," he said, "we can continue to operate as we have done in the past, with private funds."

Prisoners are Indispensable. State's Attorney John A. Swanson said he was indisposed and did not care to discuss the case.

The suit was brought by Attorneys Louis Greenberg and Harold J. Dalton in the name of a taxpayer, Julius J. Hahn. It was set up that the expenses of the attorney general's office were used for in the regular annual appropriation, and that no additional expenditure of public funds is legal.

The county board's $225,000 allotment, voted on Dec. 5, was never turned over to the prosecutors. The check is now in the hands of County Treasurer George F. Harding, who was restrained by the temporary writ from issuing it.

Board Changes Attitude. Attorney General Oscar Cretzschmar was expected to present the primary day violence and fraud after the late state's attorney, Robert E. Crowe, was declared to be interested in the outcome of the investigation.

Cretzschmar named Loeck, David D. Bannister, and Edwin J. Baber as special assistants to have direct charge of the work.

The county board was asked last summer to appropriate $150,000 for the probe. Commissioners controlled by the Gelpin-Croce faction defeated the request. A public subscription raised more than this amount, but in pledges. After the November election, which repudiated the Gelpin-Croce group, the county board again was petitioned for funds, this time for $100,000. The commissioners, exhibiting a new spirit, voted to appropriate $125,000 to take over the pledges of private citizens and civic organizations.

SUPREME COURT STAYS EXECUTION OF WM. HAUKE

William Hauke, scheduled to be the last man hanged in Cook county, was granted a writ of superseas yesterday by the Supreme court and this automatically delays his execution until such time as his case is reversed. The Supreme court reversed last in allowing the writ. A similar application was denied last week when Hauke was originally scheduled to be hanged.

Hauke, who claims to be a soldier of fortune and who served in the Canadian army, was saved from the gallows by a last minute stay granted by Judge Frank Comerford in the Criminal court. The stay was granted on a petition filed by prominent members of the American Legion, acting not as legionnaires but as private citizens, they said. They, however, annexed their Legion titles after the signatures attached to the petition.

Hauke three years ago shot and killed the landlady at the home where his estranged wife was living. He fled from Chicago after the killing.

These organizations—eight of the most successful advertisers in the country—are, of course, vitally interested in getting the most out of the advertising dollar.

WORKING independently of each other, these eight investigated the buying and reading habits of more than 23,000 American families, in scores of cities and towns. "What people influence the sale of my product?" "What magazines do they read?" were among the questions asked.

All eight institutions found that in the great majority of homes today, two or more members of the family influence nearly every purchase, whether it be toothpaste, pianos, fountain pens or canned soup. No one person makes the choice. In over 69% of the cases it is a consensus of family opinion that makes the sale.

And as to magazine reading habits—the findings of these eight advertisers also coincided exactly. When asked which magazine was indispensable to the family as a whole—which it would vote to keep if only one magazine could come into the home—the answers were overwhelmingly in favor of The American Magazine.

Many similar surveys have recently been made by other large national advertisers, advertising agencies, associations, universities and research groups. In every one of which we have knowledge, the same results were obtained.

These studies point a clear way to reduce advertising waste. Since home buying today is governed by the opinions of the whole family, since the average family consists of 4.3 persons, and since The American Magazine is the outstanding family favorite—then The American Magazine offers the best means of telling and selling the whole family in 2,200,000 homes—at one advertising cost. It actually puts the advertising dollar on a 4 to 1 basis.

Famous Recipe For Stopping a Severe Cough

It will be pleasantly surprised when you make up this simple home mixture and try it for a distressing cough or cold. It takes but a moment to make and costs little, but it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

Four ounces of Pinex from any drug store. Pour this into a pint bottle; add to it plain granulated sugar or honey. It takes but a moment to make and costs no more than a small bottle of ready-made medicine, yet it is much more effective. It is pure, keeps indefinitely and children love its pleasant taste.

This simple remedy has a remarkable three-fold action. It goes right to the seat of trouble, soothes away the inflammation, and loosens the germs. At the same time, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly upon the bronchial tubes and the lungs inwardly to throw off the mucus trouble with surprising ease.

There is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a palatable, reliable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for coughs, chest colds and bronchitis.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

FUND IS RELEASED TO BUILD SOUTH ROBEY ST. BRIDGE

Mayor Signs Ordinance;
Work Starts Soon.

Funds for the construction of the South Robey street bridge and viaduct approaches were released yesterday by Mayor Thompson, with the signing of an ordinance appropriating $3,923,032, the contemplated cost of the improvement. The contract, which was awarded to the Great Lakes Dredge and Dock company, calls for the completion of the work within 15 months. The work is expected to be under way soon after the signing of the contract some time this week.

The bridge will open Robey street between Blue Island avenue and 33d street, providing a thoroughfare across the south branch of the Chicago river between Ashland and Western avenues. Plans for opening the street between 33d and 43d streets, blocked by buildings of the Central Manufacturing district, are being prepared by the Chicago Plan commission.

Makes Long Street.
Completion of these two projects will open Robey street from Bryn Mawr avenue on the north to 74th street on the south. A third obstacle in the improvement of the street was removed recently with the completion of a bridge over the north branch of the river opening the street between Diversey and Fullerton avenues.

"This improvement will be a wonderful thing for that district," said Ald. Dennis A. Horan (21st), in whose ward the work is located. "It will help the entire manufacturing district by affording an outlet and will relieve the congestion of trucks and other vehicles on the Western avenue bridge."

Ald. Horan was chairman of a sub-

CAR FERRIES REPORT HEAVIEST LAKE ICE SINCE WINTER OF 1917

Menominee, Mich., Feb. 20.—(Special.)—With the exception of a short space in the middle of Lake Michigan, that body of water is frozen over on the crossing from Frankfort to Menominee, Capt. Ole T. Larson, superintendent of marine for the Ann Arbor lines, reported today upon his arrival here on car ferry No. 5. The ice ranges from six to fourteen inches thick, he said. The run from Frankfort to Menominee is 30 miles, of which 12 miles are across Lake Michigan.

Despite the heavy ice daily trips between Menominee and Frankfort are made by the car-ferries without much loss of time. The Ann Arbor car-ferries have maintained all winter service to Menominee the last four years. The nearest approach to present ice conditions was in 1917, Capt. Larson said. At that time the lake was frozen about two thirds of the distance across. Marine men say that the only time that Lake Michigan froze solidly across was in 1857 or 1858.

Committee of the council finance committee which recommended the appropriation ordinance to the council. Other members of the committee were Ald. Oscar Nelson (46th), Louis Anderson (2d), and Thomas F. Byrne (15th). The new route, Ald. Byrne said, will afford a better traffic connection between his outlying ward and the loop district.

First Bids Rejected.
Before the plans for the entire South Robey street bridge project were completed, the board of local improvements advertised for bids on the sub-structure alone. The Central Dredging company was the low bidder, but all bids were rejected by the board, which did not readvertise until the entire plans were finished.

The Great Lakes company obtained the contract for the river straightening from the city, though it was the second lowest bidder. It was underbid on the contract for the North Robey street bridge, but was awarded the contract.

INFLUENZA TAKES 2,624 LIVES IN PARIS IN 10 DAYS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
PARIS, Feb. 20.—Paris today counted up the casualties resulting from the longest and coldest spell of arctic weather that the French capital has undergone in years, and which struck the city at the precise moment when a large proportion of the population was weakened by influenza.

The total deaths for the first ten days of February was found to have been 2,624, against 1,835 for the same period last year. Considerably more than half of this year's fatalities are attributed to influenza, grippe, bronchitis, and pneumonia.

Among the prominent persons on the sick list, all of whom today are reported improved, are Premier Raymond Poincaré, Foreign Minister Aristide Briand, Agent General for Reparations Seymour Parker Gilbert, Gen. John J. Pershing, Al Woods, and the former Maharajah of Indore.

KILAUEA ERUPTS; FLAMES LEAP 300 FEET IN AIR

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
HONOLULU, Feb. 20.—Private advice indicates that the activity of Kilauea, the largest active volcano in the world, is increasing. The volcano began erupting early today, and at noon had covered the entire crater floor, with prospects of continuing active for some time. The eruption has evoked the interest of crowds of sightseers, who are arriving at the crater's edge.

The eruption started with two pillars of flame about 300 feet high in the Kilauea crater pit, which is 1,500 feet wide. The activity increased rapidly, and many other pillars of flame appeared.

Prof. Thomas A. Jaggar, volcanologist, believes the eruption will last several days.

How come Heart-Leaves don't bite your throat?

... this veteran of the tobacco fields explains it

"Uncle Peter" knows tobacco secrets from sixty years in the fields

"When Mother Nature rears up a tobacco plant with its big family of growing leaves, she gets like most mothers... a little bit partial.

"Just look at those no 'count top-leaves,' she thinks, 'gummy and woody, no matter how much sun I give them. And look at the ground-leaves, they get frizzled and burnt by the sun, no matter how hard I try. But the heart-leaves grow silky-smooth, and bright as a ten dollar gold piece."

"So, to the heart-leaves, Mother Nature gave the quality of making a thrilling, throat-easy smoke.

"OLD GOLD buys only the heart-leaf quality. Chooses only the golden beauties from the heart of the plant. I reckon that's why OLD GOLDS don't bite your throat. Why you can smoke them from sun-up to sun-down!"

74 BOUTS FOR GOLDEN GLOVES THRILL 4,000

ROOKIE HURLER
STARS IN LONG
CUB REHEARSALLautenbacher Shows
July 4th Speed.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Avalon, Cal., Feb. 20.—Despite the terrible monotony of the blaring music here, the Cubs still are happy and going along quite splendidly, thank you. Some of the boys already are planning to go to a good old fashioned hobo party, but to date none has threatened to leave Calina and shirk his responsibility to Mr. Wrigley and Mr. McCarthy simply for the sake of frolicking in the snow back home.

When we say the Cubs are happy we don't include Trainer Dr. Iodine Lotshaw. In addition to being the busiest man in the training camp, Dr. Lotshaw is all burnt up, as the saying goes, about the seagull situation.

The Doctor Has His Say.

Today Dr. Lotshaw came out flat footed for a revision of the code which makes it a high crime to kill a seagull. The Cubs' doctor made it clear that he will do everything in his power, to obtain a statute which at least will teach seagulls some manners.

"I have been so busy at this time here Avalon beach clubhouse that today I had my lunch sent down from the hotel in a shoe box," Dr. Lotshaw said in announcing his stand. "Naturally I was as hungry as a wolf. Well, I decided to get out in the air, so I took my shoe box full of food and a pint bottle of milk and went out to sit on the springboard to my report. But just as I was getting settled the phone in the clubhouse rang. I knew it was Mrs. Lotshaw and I always answer her calls promptly.

"Well, to make a long story long I came out just in time to see a seagull flying away with my lunch and another was sitting there trying to figure how he could hoist the milk bottle."

Mr. Lautenbacher Looks Good.

After the practice today there existed something of a flurry of excitement about the chances of Eddie Lautenbacher becoming a first string Cub hurler. While none of the rookies is being snubbed, it is apparent that Lautenbacher has entrenched himself in the center of the stage and probably will not be displaced unless he gets his early knocked off in several exhibition games, a circumstance that is considered highly improbable.

For those who have forgotten their hope on this promising young man, the following statistics are repeated: His name is Edward M. Lautenbacher. He is 21 years old, six feet three inches tall, and weighs 200 pounds. Last year he won ten games for Reading in the International league, while losing five.

Although he lives in Brooklyn, Eddie apparently has an opportunity to keep working all winter, for this morning he was burning them in like it was the Fourth of July.

Here's Another Favorite.

Another favorite in the winter book is Tom Angier, Georgia Tech baseballer, previously mentioned in a somewhat frivolous vein. When the cheerers first beheld Thomas they guessed that he was much too porky for major league employment, but when Cub officials saw the chubby young catcher up at the plate taking the healthiest of cuts at the ball, there was a decided stimulation of interest in the young man.

He was ordered into an extra sweater and a rubber shirt and the process of whitening him down to athletic proportions now is fully under way.

There are but two casualties on the squad. Gabby Hartnett has sore feet from playing golf in dancing pumps, and Pat Malone got a misery in his stomach from overeating while on a golf hunt yesterday afternoon.

Harry Williams, president of the Cass league, and Oscar Reichow of the Los Angeles club arrive on today's boat and while here will put on the finishing touches for the impending exhibition series in Los Angeles.

Paulino Doesn't
Worry Me at All,
Christner Brags

New York, Feb. 20.—(Special.)—

"It's just another fight."

This was K. O. Christner's reply to reporters today who were concerned over the outcome of the fight between the Akron (O.) lad and Paulino Uscudun at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

"No, I'm not worrying," he continued. "I've never seen this Paulino guy fight, but he can't be any tougher than Sharkey."

Instead of resting, as most would do in his case, Christner gave a dinner party tonight for a number of his former war buddies and their wives.

Asked if he shared the opinion of his manager, Tom Lennon, who insists

Christner was cheated out of the decision in the Sharkey fight, K. O. was philosophical.

"What's the difference? That fight is over and there is no appeal from the decision," he said.

Christner is in great shape for the bout. He had a cold early in the week, but succeeded in shaking it off.

BY AL CHASE.

The Silver Dollar Stores have leased through Mark Levy & Brother the space at 73-77 West Monroe street, formerly occupied by a Childs restaurant and prior to that for many years by the Hofbrau restaurant. The famous old German eating place closed in 1911, at which time the Childs interests purchased the building and leasehold from the Schoenhofen Investment company and occupied it with a restaurant until May, 1923. The new lease will occupy the entire first floor and basement, 45x190. The lease is for ten years from Feb. 1, 1929, and was made on a minimum and percentage basis. The store space will be remodeled. TRY TO SAVE ASSETS FROM AUDITORIUM ASSOCIATION WRECK

Letters were sent out yesterday to the bondholders of the Chicago Auditorium association urging them to join in conserving the assets. They are requested by President R. Floyd Clinch to deposit their bonds with a protective committee composed of Frank M. Gordon, vice president of the First Trust and Savings Bank, T. J. Bryon, vice president of the Illinois Merchants Trust, and Robert B. Whiting, vice president of the Foreman Trust and Savings Bank.

President Clinch calls attention to the fact that the lease of the Civic Opera company on the Auditorium theater will expire next September and that the Auditorium hotel's earnings are limited. Last year produced a net operative loss of $136,923 without allowing for depreciation. This loss was met in part by selling $130,000 of Liberty bonds out of the emergency fund. The outstanding $534,000 first mortgage bonds and $541,000 consolidated mortgage bonds now are in default and the property is in receivership.

Another Reason and Cure for Too Early Awakening

Mrs. Brown has prepared two booklets, one on "Prayers and Prayers for Children" and another on "Prayers for the Sick and the Dying," which will be sent free on receipt of stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

While we're on the subject of children waking up too early in the morning, there is another phase of it that will bear a little practical handling, with excellent results and which applies to children of a wide range of ages—up to 5, or 10, or 11. It is this: Many children have a bed hour which is early enough—perhaps 7:30 or 8:30. If they sleep through 7 or 8:30 in the morning, this allows them an adequate night's rest. But if they wake up at 5:30, 6, or 6:30 and cannot go to sleep again, then one or two hours are clipped off their rest. And this is not good if it happens frequently. Full rest is of paramount importance.

One very common reason why children wake up before their regular time is because they are in discomfort from the necessity of going to the bathroom. Having once gotten up at an hour so near their regular hour for waking, they cannot go to sleep again.

Attention at about 11 or 12 o'clock at night will frequently do away with the too early waking. It is especially helpful for the child who always wakes very freely of both urine and water. Awakened at 11, made comfortable, then freshly tucked in, with the addition or subtraction of covers, many children will sleep through their full time—and more quietly, too. Children can be awakened for this purpose without its disturbing their rest, and they will drop off to sleep immediately. In fact, if the habit is formed, they often don't remember your getting them up, at all.

I have found in summer on those breathless nights we sometimes have, that they frequently crave a long cool drink of water at 11 or 12. Even if they don't ask for it, it is well to have it at hand when you wake them and give it to them. It has a soothing effect.

In waking them at night do it very gently. Sometimes they will get up & their name is spoken once. At other times you have to put your hand on their shoulder or head and call them several times. They must not be startled in sleep, and if they are in one of those profound slumbers that we have all experienced, and cannot be easily stirred, it is better to let them sleep through until morning. Look out for weakness after having influenza

Anybody who's had "flu" knows how weak and peppy it leaves you. Indeed the convalescent days are days when you should take particular care of yourself—not go dragging around feeling like a wet dishrag.

DURING the period of recuperation Nujol will help you. It is a real health promoter. Keeps the system functioning normally. Does not allow it to get clogged up.

Physicians agree that, particularly if you've been sick, purging by laxatives and cathartics is not advisable. Many doctors are, therefore, prescribing Nujol, as no case does it cause exhaustion or weakening of the system. It regulates the system, eliminates poisons, and helps about better health.

Nujol is as harmless as pure water. Just a fine natural substance that keeps the system working at all times the way nature meant it to. Regularly. Easily. Normally.

Nujol may be given to little babies, very old folks, invalids and others who are easily upset by more drastic methods.

Let Nujol help to restore you to complete and vigorous health. Take a spoonful every night. After a trial you'll have confidence, and energy, feel more optimistic. You'll soon look and be yourself again.

Nujol has been used for years by thousands of people, as a regular part of their health regimen. It's something how it strengthens you, even when you feel dull and heavy. Especially in winter when you don't get nearly enough exercise. Or eat enough green foods.

Fashion Pledges Our Chic in Chartreuse

BY LOLITA.

NEW YORK.—(Special Correspondence.)—Lime-blossom Lights! Varying the title of a famous book, we would thus describe one of the leading lights of fashion. We refer, of course, to that range of greens indented with yellow which have taken such possession of both ballroom and sports arena. Chartreuse and lime tints and that lovely green which the French call "vert"—these are found in the fluttering chiffon evening gowns as conspicuously as in the silk crepe and jersey sports costumes.

An excellent illustration of the domination of this greenery-valley mood is provided by the above sports costume of jersey in lime color. Aside from this interest, the frock possesses many other claims to your attention. First of all, it is remarkable for the manner in which an arrangement in some form or other has enthralled almost every type of garment, and you will see here that it is effected by three bands of self material. The frock is one piece, but it simulates a jumper by means of a yoked skirt formed in the same fashion as the yoke of the corseage. Each of these bands is finished by a scallop, and please do not forget that this form of decoration is playing an important rôle in the season's drama of style. Now what about hostelry to accompany a frock of such a tint as one of these yellow greens? This question may be dismissed with the words of a friend of mine who spends most of her time in Paris. "Whatever your costume," she says, "make the color of the hose suggest the natural skin."

The pattern, 2687, comes in sizes 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. Size 8 requires 1 1/2 yards of 36 inch material with 3/4 yard of 42 inch contrasting.

This means that all the sunburn shades may be combined with dresses of pastel or vivid tint and that our evening hostelry presents a choice. It may range from the familiar pale flesh tints to the deepest of sunburn hues. Incidentally, however, one must not disregard the authority of certain fashion shows where the mannequins were wearing gowns of white satin combined with hostelry of dark, sunburn tints.

Learned a Lesson.

I had a bad habit of presuming on the friendliness of our next door neighbor, and walking into her kitchen unannounced. On the last occasion, I could hardly wait to tell her the choice bit of gossip I had overheard, so rushed right over and walked into her kitchen. But—heavens! She had just painted the floor and before I came to my senses, I had fairly well spoiled its appearance.

This incident cured me of such unfair presumption and also dampened by spirit of gossiping, so the embarrassment of the experience was "good medicine," after all. But I do not crave a repeater! O, no! L. D. P.

FARM AND GARDEN BY FRANK RIDGWAY

Park gardeners in Chicago, particularly at Washington park, have demonstrated that roses will thrive in this section of the country. But that idea does not mean to have spread over the city and into its surrounding suburbs. There is room for rose bushes around homes in this part of Illinois. Roses may not be the best thing for the tenant to plant, but there is a place for more of them around homes where the owner looks after the same place year after year.

Roses are strangers to many home gardeners in this territory, but to the experienced grower there is a great variety from which to select. Gardeners at the national bureau here in Chicago put roses in four classes, all widely grown in this country. Here they are: The American and Asiatic wild rose types, which are grown as shrubs. They are hardy and will live without protection. Second, the hybrid perpetuals, often called June or cabbage roses, blooming once in June and again in the fall. They are hardy, but need protection this far north.

Third, the hybrid teas. Sometimes these are called monthly or ever-blooming roses. They are not hardy in local gardens and need protection in this region. Fourth, the hardy climbers, including multiflora and polyantha, bunch flowering types, and the hybrid wichuhalana, according to these experts.

The exact spot where the rose bush is to be planted will have something to do with the kind to buy. The bureau's classification is rough and does not include everything, but will serve as a first lesson for the novice. The rose shrub will fit into the shrubbery border and some of the perpetuals may be grown there, too. The perpetuals' blossoms will be smaller where they are grown in the border. Other types of roses do not like close company.

INSTEAD of exercise

Don't suffer the consequences of persistent lack of exercise. Learn the simple secret of the exerciser in the vest-pocket box for a dime! Millions know it!

Cascarets make bilious, constipated people feel wonderful. Their effect is not only quick, but it's lasting. They give the bowels as much real exercise as they get from an hour of bowling.

Oil, salt and ordinary laxatives do not act like Cascarets. These things produce only mechanical or chemical action. They actually weaken the bowels. You have to keep doing with them.

Each time you use Cascarets, your bowels become stronger. They are made from Cascara Sagrada, which stimulates the natural peristaltic action of the bowel muscles. Nothing else does this. That accounts for the popularity of Cascarets and their tremendous sales of over 20 million packages a year!
